

A woman with long, flowing blonde hair stands in shallow, rippling water. She is wearing a dark, form-fitting, long-sleeved dress. Her hair is blowing in the wind, creating a sense of movement. The background is a dense, lush tropical forest with large, dark green ferns and other foliage. The lighting is soft and natural, suggesting a serene, outdoor setting.

A vertical photograph of a tree trunk in a dense jungle. The trunk is covered in thick green moss and is entwined with several brown, gnarled vines. The background is filled with lush green foliage, creating a sense of being deep within a forest.

Here, the jungle receives everything you are without judgment.

Here, the sea teaches you to let go.

Here, your body can finally soften.

For one week, we will walk together
on a journey back to our elemental self — to the wild, pure, luminous, and sacred essence.

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a small, dark, textured object, possibly a piece of wood or a small animal, over a body of water. The background is a soft-focus view of a lake or river with a forested shoreline under a bright, hazy sky. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

A return to you.
To your inner worth.
To the peace of being who you are without asking for permission.
To the real beauty that is not manufactured — it is remembered.
To the freedom of inhabiting your body with pleasure,
presence, acceptance, devotion, and love.
To the gentle strength of women who have walked through their own night and chosen to be reborn.

This is an invitation to heal the wound, to touch it with honesty, to hold it without fear... and to transform it into power, clarity, and authenticity.

Only 16 spaces.
An intimate, true, deeply human circle.

Who are the facilitators?

- Giglia Canessa is a writer and a somatic and energetic guide of ancestral lineage who integrates dance, yoga, kinesiology, and awareness practices to support deep processes of healing and reconnection with the body and purpose. With more than three decades of spiritual and formative experience, she creates safe, ritual spaces where the subtle, emotional, and physical align, inviting each person to remember their innate power of self-healing and their essential nature.
- Angélica Arauz is an intuitive chef, creator, and writer who understands cooking as a sacred language of care, pleasure, and presence. With nearly two decades of experience cooking between jungle and sea, her art is born from fire, living ingredients, and deep listening to the body. Her spiritual path and her words weave into her cuisine to create experiences where flavor, texture, aroma, and beauty awaken an intimate connection with life.
- Mariel Orellana is an artist, photographer, and Cha Dao tea facilitator in Guatemala. Through tea, imagery, and song, she creates rituals of presence where beauty, listening, and the pulse of nature become a living experience. Her sensitive gaze reveals the essence of people and moments, transforming the everyday into an act of love and deep connection.
